MAKESENSECAMPAIGN

This year, together with illustrious foreign colleagues, AIOCC reflects on some aspects concerning the approach to head and neck tumors.

The purpose of the day is to offer a common, multidisciplinary container that can gather knowledge and foster debates on clinical care and quality of care, but that can also revolve around issues of more innovative research for all the disciplines involved.

Furthermore, AIOCC wants to try to look even further into the imagination of the possible scenarios of knowledge brought about by the technological era.

We look forward to welcoming you to Rome.

*Lisa Licitra
AIOCC President*
